UISCRIMINATION

In every walk in life discrimination between the true and the false wins and enjoys success. In questions of form, of style and of values, whether financial commercial or medicinal, the judgement of the men and women who select and appreciate and utilize the true and genuine product, proves most profitable and most satisfactory to themselves and to all who follow them.

Therefore, in connection with so important a subject as the physical well-being of the people, the most eminent physicians insist on full information as to the wholesome nature and truly beneficial character of the component parts of the remedies used and prescribed by them, and the wise manufacturer not only supplies them with the knowledge desired, but also combines for them in proper proportions the very substances most approved by them and omits every objectionable substance. The world-wide acceptance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna by physicians and the well-informed of the world, as the best of family laxatives, is due to the universal satisfaction which it has given for more than a quarter of a century and also to the fact that it is a remedy of known quality and known component parts and to the further fact that the California Fig Syrup Co. presents it to the world simply as the ideal strengthening personal laxative to cleanse and sweeten the system gently, yet effectually, and to dispel colds and headaches and to assist in overcoming constipation. To get its beneficial effects—always buy the original and genuine, for sale by all leading druggiets. The full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is always plainly printed on the front of every package.

and C. W. Scott, a brother-in-law of Mr. Herndon.

The grave was fully covered with exquisite floral tributes, many of which were sent from Lynchburg. Unique and noteworthy among these was a large scroll design, mounted on an easel, and representing the page of a newspaper, with the words, "Lynchburg News and Advance," in letters of blue across the top, like the caption of a newspaper, while blue longitudinal lines represented the column divisions of a newspaper. This exquisite design was of white flowers, with a wreath of white roses in the centre. The remains were interred in Greenhill Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

BUTLER—It has been said that a country of patrictism and noble deeds will be ever mindful of its heroic dead. Conrade G. C. BUTLER, who died in Bristol. Va., March 12, 1910, was born in Hanover country, Va., 1837, dying in his seventy-third year. He was a member of Company C. Fifteenth Virginia Infantry, and served as a galant soldier during the entire war. He was twice wounded—dirst in the arm at memorable Sharpsburg, September 17, 1862; then again received a bad wound at Drowry's Bluff, May 16, 1864, losing an eye. He was feriless in battle, did his full duty during the Confederate war; since the war he has lived as a good citizen, and died a true, honest man.

"How sleep the brave who sink to rost
With all their country's wishes blest:
When spring, with dewy lingers cold.
Raturns to deck their hallowed mold.
She there shall find a sweeter sod
Than fancy's feet have ever trod."
An old comrade.
